

Tracey M. Cox

Tracey M. Cox has been hooked on crochet products since she could remember. She grew up watching her mother crochet all sorts of afghans.

In 2017, Tracey started her own company, Left Hook Crochet.

Why left hook? Well, Tracey happens to be a South Paw and crochets backwards.

Tracey enjoys creating beanies, afghans, graph crocheting, and more. Yep, she likes challenges. Visit her website to see what all she offers. If there's something special you'd like done and don't see it, send her an email.

She also shares patterns for free on her blog.

Happy hooking!

You can find more information on Tracey M. Cox's web site:

www.traceymcox.com/lefthookcrochet